THE NEW MAP OF EUROPE

RED SHADING: New Countries or Territories to be adjusted.
New Nations and Territories of Europe

(All new nations and territories are indicated on the map in red.)

1. Alsace-Lorraine will be ceded in whole or in part to France.

2. Poland will be an independent state composed of the Polish portions of Russia, Germany and Austria-Hungary.

3. The Jugoslavs, already recognized by President Wilson, will form a great state in what is now the southern part of Austria-Hungary. Serbia and Montenegro will probably be parts of this state.

4. Rumania may be expanded into Greater Rumania, including Bessarabia on the north and Transylvania on the west.

5. Finland will be an independent state if it does not unite with a federated Russia.

6. Lithuania, Courland, Livonia and Esthonia are four small states which were formerly part of Russia. They border on the Baltic Sea. Like Finland, they will be independent states or parts of a new Russia.

7. The Ukraine is likely to continue as an independent nation in Southwestern Russia.

8. The Czecho-Slovaks, recognized by President Wilson, will form a new state in Northern Austria-Hungary just south of the German border.

9. Italy will acquire two small stretches of territory on her northern border which are inhabited by Italians, but were ruled by Austria-Hungary before the war.
The League of Nations

1. Can these new nations protect themselves?
   No. They will be small and poorly armed.

2. How can they be protected?
   By a League of Nations with an international army and navy.

3. How can that League be formed?
   By the joint action of all powers at the peace conference.

4. Who would govern the League?
   The representatives of all the nations which joined.

5. Would Germany be admitted?
   Only if she submits to the terms of President Wilson and our Allies, and shows a purpose to be a fit partner in a League of Nations.

6. How would the League prevent war?
   By forcing all nations to submit their disputes to an International Court or a Council of Conciliation.

7. What would happen if any nation refused?
   The other nations would use economic pressure to starve the outlaw nation.

8. What if economic pressure failed?
   Then all law-abiding nations could, as now, unite their armies and navies to crush the offending power.

9. What has President Wilson said about a League of Nations?
   "What disturbs the life of the whole world is the concern of the whole world, and it is our duty to lend the full force of this nation, moral and physical, to a League of Nations, which shall see to it that nobody disturbs the peace of the world without submitting his case to the opinion of mankind."
